DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 12, 15, 19-24 and 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brach et al. (5,335,802). Brach et al. disclose the limitations of the claims including a hinged guarantee closure for a container (figs. 1-10) being injection molded in a closed state (Abstract) comprising a cap (3) having an integral closing member (15), a ring member (2), a hinge element (20) made on the periphery of the cap, said hinge having a coupling part in the form of an internal snap edge (21), spring element (22), concave hinge (fig. 9) on an indented portion of the cap and a guarantee connection (40).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 13, 14 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Brach et al. (5,335,802) as described in par. 2. Brach et al. as described in par. 2 discloses the limitations of the claims substantially excluding what would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention, having a guarantee connection positioned diametrically opposite said hinge element thereby utilizing design symmetry and having said cap and ring members with similar external diameters in order to facilitate design choice. Moreover, a change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results. In re Dailey et al., 149 USPQ 47. Additionally, it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 10, 11, 38 and 39 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
